

MOLECULAR CANCER RESEARCH

Horizons in Molecular Biosciences

Finnish Society of Sciences and Letters

175th Anniversary Symposium

26-27 September 2013

— SPEAKERS —

K. Alitalo, Helsinki:

Vascular growth factors in tumor progression and therapy

J. Bartek, Copenhagen:

Genome integrity maintenance: Mechanisms and relevance for cancer

L. Claesson-Welsh, Uppsala:

Vascular permeability, molecular mechanisms and contribution to disease

H. zur Hausen, Heidelberg:

Infections and cancer: Mechanisms and novel modes of cancer prevention

K. Helin, Copenhagen:

Role of epigenetic regulators in stem cell identity and cancer

H. Joensuu, Helsinki:

KIT receptor tyrosine kinase as target of cancer therapy

M. Masucci, Stockholm:

Remodeling of the cellular environment by tumor viruses

H. Stenmark, Oslo:

Membrane dynamics and cancer

R. Toftgård, Stockholm:

Hedgehog signalling as a driver and target in cancer

The symposium is held at the House of the Estates in Helsinki, is open for the public and free of charge but advance registration is required.
